SECURITY INFORMATION

ABSTRACT OF DOCUMENT BEING CROSS FILED

HA-5-3-52 ZJI-604 19 Apr 1951 Background on JIS and Japanese Military Personalities PERIMENT INFORMATION FYALUATION: F-2 excert as stated Source: The following information on Subject, KODAMA Yoshio, has been excerpted verbatim from the above referenced document. 3. SAKATA Sadamasa a. SAKATA, OKADA's deputy in the MATSU Kikan, operated extensively in Shanghai during the war years always as a civilian. He came from a very refuned and well-to-do family in Japan, and was considered by the Japanese in Shanghai at first (c. 1940) to be very sincere as well as competent. SAKATA's association with KODAMA Yoshio, with well-known Japanese gangsters, and with various Chinese of the Shanghai underworld only gradually became known and the venality and dishonesty of SAKATA only gradually recognised. By that time he was too powerful to eliminate or release. Nevertheless, it must be admitted that SAKATA had a gemmine talent for clandestine operations of all sorts, although he was really too indolent and disinterests to worry about producing good intelligence information. Although the gree commine blackmail methods and involvement of Shanghai Chinese usiness interests served to insure to some extent the loyalty of these personages to the Japanese regime by making it commercially profitable to all concerned as well as to himself. There can be no doubt in the mind of anyone who knew very much at all of his operations that SAKATA thoroughly understood the principles of control, however unscrupulously and evariciously he might have used them. 10. KODAMA Yoshio a. KODAMA Yoshio a. KODAMA Ioshio's value as an intelligence operative is virtually nil. He is professional liar, gangster, charlatan, and outright thief. His main objective throughout all his career was to get wealth and personal power for himself, regardless of consequences to his country. He currently enjoys the dubious confidence of certain Foreign Office diplomats along with the former Communital MISEYAMA Sadachiim and also the trust of ARISUE Seizo, who is usi	FILE NO.	SOURCE	DATE OF DOCUMENT	3,,,,,,,,,,,,,,,,,,,,,,,,,,,,,,,,,,,,,,
Reckground on JIS and Japanese Military Personalities 10 Sept 1953 PERLINENT INFORMATION Evaluation: F-2 excert as stated Source: The following information on Subject, KODAMA Yoshio, has been excerpted vertetin from the above referenced document. 3. SAKATA Sadamasa a. SAKATA, OKADA's deputy in the MATSU Kikan, operated extensively in Shanghai during the war years always as a civilian. He came from a very refined and well-to-do family in Japan, and was considered by the Japanese in Shanghai at first (c. 1940) to be very sincere as well as competent. SAKATA's association with MONAMA Yoshio, with well-known Japanese gangeters, and with various Chinese of the Shanghai underworld only gradually became known and the vensity and dishonesty of SAKATA only gradually recognized. By that time he was too powerful to eliminate or release. Nevertheless, it must be admitted that SAKATA had a gemmine talent for release. Nevertheless, it must be admitted that SAKATA had a gemmine talent for release. Nevertheless, it must be admitted that SAKATA had a purpose of his political operations of all sorts, although he was really too indolent and disinterested to worry about producing good intelligence information. Although the gree displayed in his economic operations of the hindered the real purpose of his political operations against the Chinese in Shanghai, nevertheless, in some cases, his economic blackmail methods and involvement of Shanghai Chinese business interests served to insure to some extent the loyalty of these personages to the Japanese regime by making it commercially profitable to all concerned as well as to himself. There can be no doubt in the mind of anyone who knew very much at all of his operations that SAKATA thoroughly understood the principles of control, however unscrupulously and avariciously he might have used them. 10. KODAMA Yoshio a. KODAMA Ioshio's value as an intelligence operative is virtually nil. He is a professional liar, gangster, charlatan, and outright thief. His main objective throughout	44-5-3-52	ZJL-604	19 Apr 1951		٦
Periment information Fyaluation: F-2 except as stated Source: The following information on Subject, KODAMA Yoshio, has been excerpted verbatim from the above referenced document. 3. SAKATA Sadamasa a. SAKATA, OKADA's deputy in the MATSU Kikan, operated extensively in Shanghai during the war years always as a civilian. He came from a very refined and well-to-do family in Japan, and was considered by the Japanese in Shanghai at first (c. 1940) to be very eincere as well as competent. SAKATA's association with KODAMA Konhio, with well-known Japanese gangeters, and with various Chinese of the Shanghai underworld only gradually became known and the vensity and dishonesty of SAKATA only gradually recognized. By that time be was too powerful to eliminate or release. Nevertheless, it must be admitted that SAKATA had a gemmine talent for clandestime operations of all sorts, although he was really too indelent and disinterested to worry about producing good intelligence information. Although the gree displayed in his economic operations often hindered the real purpose of his political operations against the Chinese in Shanghai, nevertheless, in some cases, his economic blackmail methods and involvement of Shanghai Chinese business interests served to insure to some extent the loyalty of these personages to the Japanese regime by making it commercially profitable to all concerned as well as to himself. There can be no doubt in the mind of anyone who knew very much at all of his operations that SAKATA thoroughly understood the principles of control, however unscrupulously and avariciously he might have used them. 10. KODAMA Yoshio a. KODAMA Yoshio a. KODAMA Ioshio's value as an intelligence operative is virtually nil. He is professional liar, gangster, charlatan, and outright thief. His main objective throughout all his capser was to get wealth and personal power for himself, regarding the professional liar, gangster, charlatan, and outright thief. His main objective throughout all his capser was to get wealth and	SUBJECT	······································		0415
The following information on Subject, KODAMA Yoshio, has been excerpted verbetim from the above referenced document. 3. SAKATA Sadamasa a. SAKATA, OKADA's deputy in the MATSU Kikan, operated extensively in Shanghai during the war years always as a civilian. He came from a very refined and well-to-do family in Japan, and was considered by the Japanese in Shanghai at first (c. 1940) to be very sincere as well as competent. SAKATA's association with KODAMA toahio, with well-known Japanese gangeters, and with various Chinese of the Shanghai underworld only gradually became known and the vensity and dishonesty of SAKATA only gradually recognized. By that time he was too powerful to eliminate or release. Nevertheless, it must be admitted that SAKATA had a gemine talent for release. Nevertheless, it must be admitted that SAKATA had a gemine talent for release to worry about producing good intelligence information. Although the gree displayed in his economic operations often hindered the really urpose of his political operations against the Chinese in Shanghai, nevertheless, in some case, his economic blackmail methods and involvement of Shanghai Chinese business interests served to insure to some extent the loyalty of these personages to the Japanese regime by making it commercially profitable to all concerned as well as to himself. There can be no doubt in the mind of anyone who knew very much at all of his operations that SAKATA thoroughly understood the principles of control, however unscrupulously and avariciously he might have used them. 10. KODAMA Toshio a. KODAMA Toshio a. KODAMA Ioshio's value as an intelligence operative is virtually nil. He is professional liar, gangater, charlatan, and outright thief. His main objective throughout all his career was to get wealth and personal power for himself, regardless of consequences to his country. He currently enjoys the dubious confidence of certain Foreign Office diplomats along with the former Communist MaBEMAM Sadachina and also the trust of ARISUE Seizo, who	Background on J	IS and Japanes	s Military Personaliti	es 10 Se	pt 1953
The following information on Subject, KODAMA Yoshio, has been excerpted verbetim from the above referenced document. 3. SAKATA Sadamasa a. SAKATA, OKADA's deputy in the MATSU Kikan, operated extensively in Shanghai during the war years always as a civilian. He came from a very refined and well-to-do family in Japan, and was considered by the Japanese in Shanghai at first (c. 1940) to be very sincere as well as competent. SAKATA's association with KODAMA toahio, with well-known Japanese gangeters, and with various Chinese of the Shanghai underworld only gradually became known and the vensity and dishonesty of SAKATA only gradually recognized. By that time he was too powerful to eliminate or release. Nevertheless, it must be admitted that SAKATA had a gemine talent for release. Nevertheless, it must be admitted that SAKATA had a gemine talent for release to worry about producing good intelligence information. Although the gree displayed in his economic operations often hindered the really urpose of his political operations against the Chinese in Shanghai, nevertheless, in some case, his economic blackmail methods and involvement of Shanghai Chinese business interests served to insure to some extent the loyalty of these personages to the Japanese regime by making it commercially profitable to all concerned as well as to himself. There can be no doubt in the mind of anyone who knew very much at all of his operations that SAKATA thoroughly understood the principles of control, however unscrupulously and avariciously he might have used them. 10. KODAMA Toshio a. KODAMA Toshio a. KODAMA Ioshio's value as an intelligence operative is virtually nil. He is professional liar, gangater, charlatan, and outright thief. His main objective throughout all his career was to get wealth and personal power for himself, regardless of consequences to his country. He currently enjoys the dubious confidence of certain Foreign Office diplomats along with the former Communist MaBEMAM Sadachina and also the trust of ARISUE Seizo, who	r)
The following information on Subject, KODAMA Yoshio, has been excerpted verbetim from the above referenced document. 3. SAKATA Sadamasa a. SAKATA, OKADA's deputy in the MATSU Kikan, operated extensively in Shanghai during the war years always as a civilian. He came from a very refined and well-to-do family in Japan, and was considered by the Japanese in Shanghai at first (c. 1940) to be very sincere as well as competent. SAKATA's association with KODAMA toahio, with well-known Japanese gangeters, and with various Chinese of the Shanghai underworld only gradually became known and the vensity and dishonesty of SAKATA only gradually recognized. By that time he was too powerful to eliminate or release. Nevertheless, it must be admitted that SAKATA had a gemine talent for release. Nevertheless, it must be admitted that SAKATA had a gemine talent for release to worry about producing good intelligence information. Although the gree displayed in his economic operations often hindered the really urpose of his political operations against the Chinese in Shanghai, nevertheless, in some case, his economic blackmail methods and involvement of Shanghai Chinese business interests served to insure to some extent the loyalty of these personages to the Japanese regime by making it commercially profitable to all concerned as well as to himself. There can be no doubt in the mind of anyone who knew very much at all of his operations that SAKATA thoroughly understood the principles of control, however unscrupulously and avariciously he might have used them. 10. KODAMA Toshio a. KODAMA Toshio a. KODAMA Ioshio's value as an intelligence operative is virtually nil. He is professional liar, gangater, charlatan, and outright thief. His main objective throughout all his career was to get wealth and personal power for himself, regardless of consequences to his country. He currently enjoys the dubious confidence of certain Foreign Office diplomats along with the former Communist MaBEMAM Sadachina and also the trust of ARISUE Seizo, who
The following information on Subject, KODAMA Yoshio, has been excerpted verbetim from the above referenced document. 3. SAKATA, OKADA's deputy in the MATSU Kikan, operated extensively in Shanghai during the war years always as a civilian. He came from a very refined and well-to-do family in Japan, and was considered by the Japanese in Shanghai at first (c. 1940) to be very sincere as well as competent. SAKATA's association with KODAMA Yoshio, with well-known Japanese gangsters, and with versitue Chinese of the Shanghai underworld only gradually became known and the vensity and dishonesty of SAKATA only gradually recognized. By that time he was too powerful to eliminate or release. Nevertheless, it must be admitted that SAKATA had a gemuine talent for clandestine operations of all sorts, although he was really too indolent and disinterested to worry about producing good intelligence information. Although the gree displayed in his economic operations often hindered the real purpose of his political operations against the Chinese in Shanghai, nevertheless, in some cases, his economic blackmail methods and involvement of Shanghai Chinese business interests served to insure to some extent the loyalty of these personages to the Japanese regime by making it commercially profitable to all concerned as well as to himself. There can be no doubt in the mind of anyone who knew very much at eall of his operations that SAKATA thoroughly understood the principles of control, however unscrupulously and avariciously he might have used them. 10. KODAMA Yoshio a. KODAMA Yoshio a. KODAMA Yoshio's value as an intelligence operative is virtually nil. He is a professional liar, gangster, charlatan, and outright thief. His main objective throughout all his carger was to get wealth and personal power for himself, regardless of consequences to his country. He currently enjoys the dubous confidence of certain Foreign Office diplomats along with the former Communist MARKMA Sadachika and also the trust of ARISUE Selzo, who is using KOD
a. SAKATA, OKADA's deputy in the MATSU Kikan, operated extensively in Shanghai during the war years always as a civilian. He came from a very refined and well-to-do family in Japan, and was considered by the Japanese in Shanghai at first (c. 1940) to be very sincere as well as competent. SAKATA association with KODAMA Yoshio, with well-known Japanese gangsters, and with various Chinese of the Shanghai underworld only gradually became known and the vensity and dishonesty of SAKATA only gradually recognized. By that time he was too powerful to eliminate or release. Nevertheless, it must be admitted that SAKATA had a gemnine telent for clandestine operations of all sorts, although he was really too indolent and disinterested to worry about producing good intelligence information. Although the gree displayed in his economic operations often hindered the real purpose of his political operations against the Chinese in Shanghai, nevertheless, in some cases, his economic blackmail methods and involvement of Shanghai Chinese business interests served to insure to some extent the loyalty of these personages to the Japanese regime by making it commercially profitable to all concerned as well as to himself. There can be no doubt in the mind of anyone who knew very much at all of his operations that SAKATA thoroughly understood the principles of control, however unscrupulously and avarictously he might have used them. 10. KODAMA Yoshio a. KODAMA Yoshio a. KODAMA Yoshio's value as an intelligence operative is virtually nil. He is a professional liar, gangster, charlatan, and outright thief. His main objective throughout all his career was to get wealth and personal power for himself, regardless of consequences & his country. He currently enjoys the dubious confidence of certain Foreign Office diplomest along with the former Communist Maßeryama Sadachika and also the trust of ARISUE Scizo, who is using KODAMA's present "Kikan" supposedly to gather intelligence. The truth is that KODAMA is completely inscounted as followed	C	2 except as st	ated
a. SAKATA, OKADA's deputy in the MATSU Kikan, operated extensively in Shanghai during the war years always as a civilian. He came from a very refined and well-to-do family in Japan, and was considered by the Japanese in Shanghai at first (c. 1940) to be very sincere as well as competent. SAKATA's association with KODAMA Yoshio, with well-known Japanese gangsters, and with various Chinese of the Shanghai underworld only gradually became known and the venslity and dishonesty of SAKATA only gradually recognised. By that time he was too powerful to eliminate or release. Nevertheless, it must be admitted that SAKATA had a gemine talent for clandestine operations of all sorts, although he was really too indolent and dishonested to worry about producing good intelligence information. Although the gredisplayed in his economic operations often hindered the real purpose of his political operations against the Chinese in Shanghai, nevertheless, in some cases, his economic blackmail methods and involvement of Shanghai Chinese business interests served to insure to some extent the loyalty of these personages to the Japanese regime by making it commercially profitable to all concerned as well as to himself. There can be no doubt in the mind of anyone who knew very much attall of his operations that SAKATA thoroughly understood the principles of control, however unscrupulously and avariciously he might have used them. 10. KODAMA Yoshio a. KODAMA Yoshio a. KODAMA Yoshio a. KODAMA Yoshio salue as an intelligence operative is virtually nil. He is a professional liar, gangster, charlatan, and outright thief. His main objective throughout all his capter was to get wealth and personal power for himself, regardless of consequences to his country. He currently enjoys the dubous confidence of certain Foreign Office diplomats along with the former Communist NABEYAMA Sadachika and also the trust of ARISUE Seizo, who is using KODAMA's present "Kikam" supposedings of intelligence operations, and has no interest in anything but the pro				oshio, has be	en excerpted ver-
hai during the war years always as a civilian. He came from a very refined and well-to-do family in Japan, and was considered by the Japanese in Shanghai at first (c. 1940) to be very sincere as well as competent. SAKATA's association with KODAMA Yoshio, with well-known Japanese gangsters, and with various Chinese of the Shanghai underworld only gradually became known and the venality and dishonesty of SAKATA only gradually recognized. By that time he was too powerful to eliminate or release. Nevertheless, it must be admitted that SAKATA had a gemmine talent for clandestine operations of all sorts, although he was really too indolent and disinterested to worry about producing good intelligence information. Although the gree displayed in his economic operations often hindered the real purpose of his political operations against the Chinese in Shanghai, nevertheless, in some cases, his economic blackmail methods and involvement of Shanghai Chinese business interests served to insure to some extent the loyalty of these personages to the Japanese regime by making it commercially profitable to all concerned as well as to himself. There can be no doubt in the mind of anyone who knew very much at all of his operations that SAKATA thoroughly understood the principles of control, however unscrupulously and avariciously he might have used them. 10. KODAMA Yoshio a. KODAMA Yoshio's value as an intelligence operative is virtually nil. He is professional liar, gangster, charlatan, and outright thief. His main objective throughout all his career was to get wealth and personal power for himself, regardless of consequences to his country. He currently enjoys the dubious confidence of certain Foreign Office diplomats along with the former Communist MAHEYAMA Sadachika and also the trust of ARISUE Seizo, who is using KODAMA's present "Kikam" supposedly to gather intelligence. The truth is that KODAMA is completely incapable of intelligence operations, and has no interest in anything but the profits. Even other information broke	3. SAKATA Sada	masa
a. KODAMA Yoshio's value as an intelligence operative is virtually nil. He is a professional liar, gangster, charlatan, and outright thief. His main objective throughout all his career was to get wealth and personal power for himself, regardless of consequences to his country. He currently enjoys the dubious confidence of certain Foreign Office diplomats along with the former Communist NAREYAMA Sadachika and also the trust of ARISUE Seizo, who is using KODAMA's present "Kikan" supposedly to gather intelligence. The truth is that KODAMA is completely incapable of intelligence operations, and has no interest in anything but the profits. Even other information brokers are amazed at the boldness of KODAMA's boasts and fabrications of information. Anything coming from KODAMA can be virtually discounted as false, or at least misleading. The Japanese government had the same experience with SECURITY INFO MATION.	well-to-do fami (c. 1940) to be KODAMA Yoshio, 1 Shanghai underwe SAKATA only grace release. Nevericlandestine operations the conomic blackmes gime by making there can be no ations that SAKATA	ly in Japan, an very sincers a very sincers a with well-known orld only gradually recognist theless, it must rations of all ry about product a seconomic oper against the Chia is to some extendit commercially doubt in the match thoroughly	ad was considered by the well as competent. In Japanese gangsters, a sally became known and sed. By that time he wit be admitted that SAll sorts, although he was ring good intelligence ations often hindered mese in Shanghai, never involvement of Shangh that loyalty of these profitable to all comind of anyone who knew understood the princip	se Japanese in SAKATA's assumd with variethe venality was too power! (ATA had a generally too information. the real purportheless, in ai Chinese be personages to cerned as well very much at	a Shanghai at first coiation with our Chinese of the and dishonesty of ful to eliminate or mine talent for indolent and disin—Although the gree cose of his politicose cases, his issness interests to the Japanese rell as to himself.
a professional liar, gangster, charlatan, and outright thief. His main objective throughout all his career was to get wealth and personal power for himself, regardless of consequences to his country. He currently enjoys the dubious confidence of certain Foreign Office diplomats along with the former Communist NAREYAMA Sadachika and also the trust of ARISUE Seizo, who is using KODAMA's present "Kikan" supposedly to gather intelligence. The truth is that KODAMA is completely incapable of intelligence operations, and has no interest in anything but the profits. Even other information brokers are amazed at the boldness of KODAMA's boasts and fabrications of information. Anything coming from KODAMA can be virtually discounted as false, or at least misleading. The Japanese government had the same experience with SECURITY INFO MATION.	10. KODAMA Yosh		••
CROSS REFERENCE FORM SECURITY INFO MATION C N.S.	a professional lathroughout all has of conseque certain Foreign and also the truly to gather intelligence opeother information tions of informs	iar, gangster, is career was mose to his co Office diploma at of ARISUE S elligence. The rations, and he hockers are tion. Anythin	charlatan, and outrig to get wealth and pers untry. He currently e ts along with the form eizo, who is using KOD e truth is that KODAMA as no interest in anyt amazed at the boldness g coming from KODAMA c	int thief. Hi onal power fo njoys the dub er Communist AMA's present is completel hing but the of KODAMA's an be virtual	s main objective r himself, regard- ious confidence of NABEYAMA Sadachika, "Kikan" supposed- y incapable of profits. Even boasts and fabrica- ly discounted as
	CROS	S REFERENCE	FORM SECRET
	ORM NO. 59-34 EC 1952	a			, (35)

NAZI WAR CRIMES DISCLOSURE ACT

Declassified and Approved for Release by the Central Intelligence Agency Date: 2003

CROSS FILED BY

0

EXEMPTIONS Section (2/h)
V"2X 9 1 UV4CV
(2)(B) Methods/Sources	a
(2)(G) Foreign Relations	$\vec{\Box}$

SECURITY INFORMATION

- 2 -

KODAMA in the past. KODAMA is an expert on smuggling, hijacking, and black market operations. He is a distinct menace, and because of his manipulations of the Japanese underworld, is widely feared and his favor is sought by weak men in high positions.

b. The fact remains, however, that KODAMA is really a person with no courage. As an anecdote to prove that, KODAMA's threat at one time to kill Source is a good example. In 1939, it is believed, Source met KODAMA through TSUJI Masanobu, then on duty in South China, who was temporarily quite "sold" on KODAMA's slick-talking description of his own ability and that of his "kikan". Source told TSUJI what he knew of KODAMA at Shanghai and said that KODAMA was next to worthless. They met. KODAMA politely listened to Source's expressed opinions against the war with China being continued, which were of course Pan-Asian. KDDAMA listened with rapt attention, and was apparently overcome by the logic. He begged to be permitted to work for Source, "for life." Source deferred. Shortly after that, Source had occasion to write a very unfavorable report on some of the nefarious activities of the KODAMA group. When KODAMA, then at Nanking, heard of this, he first tried to make Source appear as a traitor for supporting Pan-Asian views against the Government's war policy and charged him with collusion with Lt. General ISHIHARA Kanji's DAI TOA REMMEI. These charges were groundless, and Source's opinions against the China War were well known anyway. That failing, KODAMA threatened several times to kill Source as soon as he returned to Shanghai. Source's friends, knowing KODAMA's underworld connections were great, called Source from Nanking to advise him to "take a vacation in Japan" for a while. Source laughingly refused. KODAMA returned to Shanghai, preceded by a messenger-friend of Source's warning him of it. Source waited watchfully. KODAMA several weeks later sent Source a book he had written and asked him to comment on KODAMA's opinions in it and asked if they might meet again. Source sent back a thinly veiled warning that KODAMA had better not try any rough tactics, but obliged by briefly scanning and commenting on KODAMA's manuscript. KODAMA did not press the question of an interview, and whenever they met after that, was completely docile and almost fawningly polite to Source. In other words, Source's feeling is that although KODAMA is admittedly a very dangerous man, it proper controls or even a show of strength are applied, because he lacks any real courage, he becomes ineffective.

THIS IS ALL THE INFORMATION PERTINENT TO THE SUDJECT IN THIS DOCUMENT.

SECURITY AMFORMATION

J N.S.

AUL AL Toshio is a sender of an organization called the "Sing-Dependent alliance", a new espionage ring to operate against Uhina and supported by the intelligence Dept. of SUAP in Pokyo. (FELD, BULB, Peking, 24 Feb 31).

KODAMA Kikan men are principally made up of KODAMA's old Kempei associates such as Colonel KAWAI of the Scree Case, the WAKANO Intelligence School Clique (wherein KODAWA and DWAME Takeo cross wires), and the present Civil Service Board of the Japanese government. Through this latter agency, KODAMA will have considerable to do with influencing selection of the new Reserve Police Force officers. (Ref. ZJL-442, 8 Sept 50; ____ CE File III - 33)

ARISUE is the chief object of enmity from the Navy-Foreign Office-Moderates point of view, but his longtime semi-autonomous subordinate, MATANABE Wataru, and his newest henchman, the notorious KUDAMA Yoshio, are hated almost as much, and for man- of the same reasons. Subject is hated particularly by the former Japanese Navy men, who utilized his civilian wartime "kikan" in their operations, because of graft he carried out against their b dget then and because of post-war charges he made overtly against the Navy and his appropriation of one million dollars worth of radium and drugs because "they did not pay for operational work done for them". In addition, he is generally despised though feared as a thorough gangster and racketeer, however successful at such vocations. (Ref. ZJI-483, 13 Nov 50; C CE File III - 33)

New China News Agency dispatch released in Hong Kong on 13 Oct 50 re "American espionage" in China, reports that on MacArthur's order, the TYU KO SHA (revival group), a Japanese fascist organisation, has been revived and war criminals such as subject have been recruited for secret agents and traitors. (WDGS report #ID724564, 18 Oct 50, filed JIS-Willoughby)

A kikan of the Japanese Underground Government (JUG) is planning the "reconstruction of Japan" centered about Prince CHICHIBU, KUHARA Fusanosuke and KODAMA Yoshio. (Source: Amar 51). KODAMA and TSUJI Masanobu are absorbed to the utmost in the JUG's current rearmament plans. (Dan 51) (Ref. ZJI-596-B, Comment of the Japanese Rearmament)

See: ZJLA-1473, 11 May 1951, CE File III - I

SECRET W. C

KODAMA Yoshio

Is one of the important members of the Un-Japanese Activities Committee's Preparatory, which is currently engaged in investigative activities. (Ref. 2JL-256, Report B, CE File III - 32).

In regard to NABEYAMA Sadachika's (qv) activities in behalf of the KODAMA KIKAN, he is cooperating with KODAMA Toshio in anti-communist activities and for this he is furnished funds by the KCDAMA KIKAN. . . (Ref. ZJL-294, Report D, 24 Mar 50, Former Chief of the KODAMA TMKK Unit, notorious in internal CI operations; arrested as war criminal, but freed. Is a member of the Far Eastern Economics Research Society (ev), covert recruiting and intelligence-gathering organ. (Ref. ZJLA-818, 23 Feb 50, CE File III - 36).

Tabul Masanobu of the Vapanese Underground Govt. is rejerted to be currently residing in a place chapping to the Moshio. (Med. 200-200-20, 10 Aug 50, 32 dossier on ModI assumbu;

The following person are reported to be members of the KODAMA Yoshio KIKAN's TAIKO Trading K.K.:

Chairman (KAICHO) - TAJIRI Tomoyoshi, former vice-minister of the now defunct Greater EastAsia Ministry

Advisers - SUGIHARA Arata, ex-chief of the Treaty Bureau, Foreign Min.

FUEITAMA Alichiro, president of Japan Chemical Co.

President - KIKUCHI Takeo, former Lt. General

(Ref. ZJL-427-D, 31 Aug 50, CE File III - 36;

KODAMA KIKAN member KAHIDA Toru (whose pen name is IKEDA Tadashi) is an eperative of the Japanese underground govt; he maintains contact with former General and Prince HIGASHIKUNI. It is apparent that he obtains information pertaining to the Far East Cominform from SHIONOYA Kotaro of 9-banchi, 1-chome, Kobiki-cho, Chuo-ku, Tokyo-to. (Ref. ZJL-378-C, 28 July 50, CE File III - 45.1;